

CLEANAIR AIR SANITISER

Unique Solutions for Everyday Problems.

Hand hygiene has become recognised as the most important way of preventing the spread of germs, bacteria and sickness. What about the air we breathe?

Ecogreen CleanAir is a unique air quality treatment product that contains a carefully selected blend of essential oils which have powerful anti-microbial properties. As CleanAir is dispersed into the air, it effectively kills airborne bacteria on contact and thus improves the quality of the air we breathe.

How does Ecogreen CleanAir Work?

Bacteria moves through the air by attaching themselves to dust particles. When CleanAir is dispensed, it attaches itself to these dust particles and compromises the integrity of the cell wall, causing airborne bacteria to dehydrate and die.

Ecogreen CleanAir's unique, proven and tested formulation will significantly reduce the amount of airborne bacteria particles in the environment, thus improving the air quality. This effectively reduces the spread of bacteria and germs in places where people gather such as offices, hotels, child & aged care centres, food handling facilities, public transport, hospitals, clinics and much more.

Directions for Use

Spray directly into the air as required. For best results CleanAir should be used regularly to control the spread of bacteria and germs in the environment.
